

CINCINNATI CHILDREN'S MUSEUM - EXHIBITS

CONSTRUCTON WORLD

Learning about building and
Architecture and construction.

THE WOODS

A play area for kids that isn't accessible to adults

LITTLE SPOUTS

For infants to 4 year olds,
seperate and much quieter than the other areas. Includes nursing room

CHILDREN AROUND THE WORLD

Teaches children how other kids their age live in different places

ANIMAL SPOT

Learning about local and exotic animals. Includes programs with real animals

KID'S WORLD

Everything adults do but kid's size: Diners, grocery store, vet, Etc.

WATER WORLD

Learning about water using currents as well as contraptions in the water

ENERGY BALL ZONE

Learning about forces by using the different machines to launch, fling, catch, etc. plastic balls

ABOUT THIS BUILDING:

Architect: Alfred T. Fellheimer
& Steward Wagner

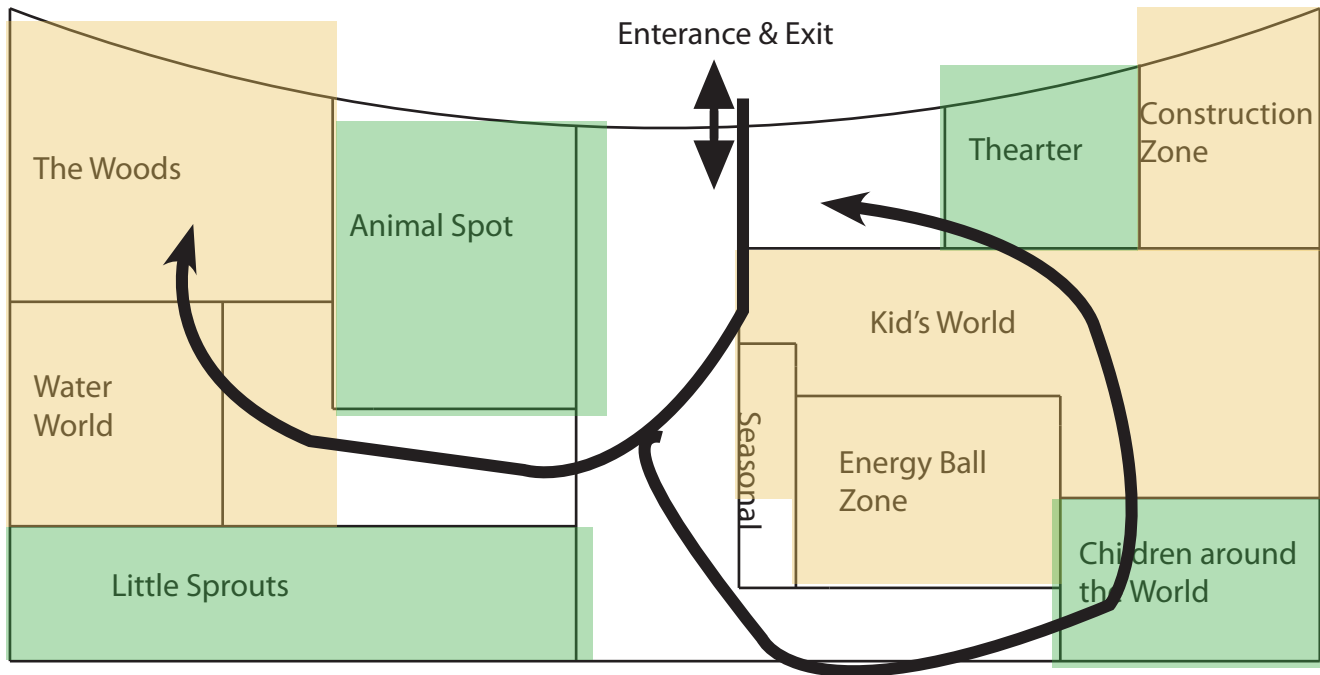

Location: Cincinnati, Ohio

Purpose: Children's Museum

SQF: 500,00 (for entire museum not just children's)

WHO COMES?

- Parents
- Children from infants up to 3rd grade

QUIETER
LOUDER

ENVIRONMENTAL OBSERVATIONS:

- A/C Kept very Cool
- Dim lighting in general with intense spot lights on areas children are meant to focus on
- Lots of sound absorption
- Lots of fire proofing

ORGANIZATION:

- Leads you in a circle one way, but to a dead end the other way
- Distinct different sections
- Some exhibits more private/quieter than others